Relive Your Flight Through Life

Between the instant of birth and the eternity of death comes a very trying period common to us all—life.

Our stay at Eisenhower High School represents a complete flight through life.

Like birth, we came into a completely new environment. We faced our new challenges with victory and sometimes defeat.

As we moved through our flight at EHS, we became entangled in a life full of activities and new experiences.

Whether they be classroom or extra curricular, we were always confronted with new ideas and friends.

Now, as seniors, we must leave.

But like a butterfly we will find new places to go and experiences to deal with.

AQUILA 1969 is a history book recording memories of fleeting moments in our FLIGHT THROUGH LIFE.

Eisenhower High Remembers Richard Henry Ramsauer with Fond Thoughts

You can see his work everywhere. You can see it in the paintings (like the one at the right), that adorned the walls of the administration buildings; in the golden eagle perched in front of the school; in the lettering of thousands of awards certificates; in the high standards of the yearbook; and in the artistic talent of his well-taught students.

His achievements at Eisenhower will not be forgotten, nor will they lack appreciation. Richard H. Ramsauer was a man among men. Although his time was short, he succeeded in accomplishing a list of achievements that few men are able to surpass. Such greatness will live on forever through the high achievements he obtained and through the sincere motivation behind them.

It is with great pleasure that we dedicate the 1969 AQUILA to the memory of Richard Henry Ramsauer.

4 SPECIAL DEDICATION

Mrs. Kuiper Is Honor Selection

She has been on the Eisenhower campus for many years. Her able hand helped start many English students on the right study course when the campus was still a Junior-Senior High in 1964.

As you walk by her office, you can hear her amiable laugh. You wonder what type of service she is rendering now...a change of schedule or details about college testing. Perhaps she is figuring the grade point averages for the members of the California Scholarship Federation, which she co-sponsors. No matter what the job, Mrs. Joann Kuiper deserves recognition for her worthwhile efforts.

Mr. Thomas Achieves Recognition

Walking by his room, you may hear sounds of composers such as Mozart or Beethoven. Suddenly the music stops, and in a patient voice, the instructor explains how a passage must be corrected. The final result is pleasing to him and the students involved.

The affection this man has for his classes cannot be surpassed. He works hard and long with his Marching and Concert Bands. He also conducts the Stage Band and Orchestra.

Because of his dedication to his work, and his deep feeling for his students, we proudly honor Mr. L. Thomas, EHS Music instructor.

AFS Program Adds Foreign Flair to Ike Campus

Right: Exchange Student Glenda Gwelling, from the Republic of South Africa, was unable to complete her year at Eisenhower. After only a few months in the United States, Glenda was notified of a family illness and had to return home. Glenda stayed with the Charles C. Lantis family. Below: John and "Poo" were among honorees riding in the First Annual Homecoming Parade. As representatives of the AFS program, they were often called upon to give guest appearances and speeches.

Jane Kneppfield joins John and "Poo" in a friendly chat after school. The three met often to discuss their AFS experiences. Many enjoyable moments accompany the Exchange student.

The American Field Service (AFS) was founded in 1914 as an ambulance service during WWI. The friendships started there, prompted the idea of cultural exchange, and in 1947 the first Foreign Student Exchange took place.

The purpose of the Student Exchange today, is to provide the countries involved with a learning experience. Young people involved in the exchange learn to appreciate other cultures as well as their own.

There are 60 countries throughout the world that participate in the American Field Service. Students in each of these countries apply to national centers in hopes of becoming representatives. Students chosen are selected on the basis of personality and intelligence, and are between 16-18.

In Rialto, there is not only a national branch to the AFS, but also a school service club. The school club hopes to promote friendship and understanding of the peoples of the world, and to make the AFS exchange students feel comfortable in their new environments.

Above: John's home in Tasmania exemplifies the countryside. Below: John and "Poo" stand ready to answer questions asked of them at one of many AFS club meetings.

Jane Knepshield Visits Austria During Summer

At the close of the 1968-1969 school year, Jane Knepshield was notified of her selection as a summer American Field Service Exchange Student to Austria. Shortly after school was dismissed, Jane left for a two month stay with the Kurzl family.

Ligist is a small town of 1,000 people, located in the southeastern Alps. Jane lived there on the Kürzl farm. As an AFS Student, she was a part of the active life of her Austrian family.

Being an AFS Student was a great experience for Jane. It was a worthwhile opportunity from which she achieved a better understanding of the people of the world and the way in which they live.

Suttarinee Siddhichai Leaves Thailand for Brief Visit to U.S.A.

In Bangkok, Thailand, there were 2,000 students who applied for the American Field Service Exchange Program. Among the twenty that were selected was Suttarinee Siddhichai, who is more commonly known as "Poo".

"Poo" arrived in the United States on August second, and began school in Portland, Oregon. Due to inclement weather and health problems, "Poo" was chosen to replace Glenda Cowling as Eisenhower's second AFS student.

"Poo" stayed with the Roger L. Birdsall family and enjoyed the friendly atmosphere of their home.

In Bangkok, "Poo's" father is the manager of a textile mill. Her mother is the director of a radio broadcast station.

Future plans for "Poo" include college in England or Thailand, and a job as an interpreter.

Australia Sends John Nicolson to Ike for Year

Eisenhower's second Foreign Exchange Student, John Nicolson, came to the campus from Launceston, Tasmania, Australia. Arriving during the summer months, John had a chance to travel and visit many California sights. He stayed with the Charles E. Pine family.

In Tasmania, John lives on an 826 acre farm approximately twenty miles from the capitol city, Canberra. He spent the greater part of his school life at a Presbyterian boarding school, although prior to coming to the United States, he spent a short time at a public high school.

parts and Pieces are Part of Eagle Life

Eisenhower High School is composed of three complex parts.

Start with one campus. What is a campus? It is formed steel, hardened concrete, cut wood, laid brick, bent wire, molded plastic, and blown glass. Our campus is also green grass, full bushes, and tall trees. Now that is a campus!

Add a population. Our population consists of boys, girls, men, and women. Whether they be students or faculty members, they are part of Eisenhower's population.

Now we have a school. But it is not complete. We are lacking a very essential part of EHS. What is it? Spirit! The third ingredient for a good high school is spirit. But what kind of spirit? It is a feeling of pride for our school, a feeling of belonging to our school, and a feeling of togetherness with others of our school.

These are a few parts of EHS. Left: ... times this past year. They are: Mai ... McGowan, Julie Fischer, Gloria Vasquez, and ... remembered by us all. Bottom: ... nes, paper ... # YOUR FLIGHT THROUGH LIFE WITH—

We came to EHS unaware of what running a school involved. Now we know: it takes the patience of the administrators, the stamina of the classified help, as well as the dedication of the teachers. They worked together to insure the success of our high school experience. They were involved; they cared. They led us in our stay at EHS and showed us what to expect as we continue our Flight Through Life.

TO THE CLASS OF 1969

The class of 1969 is the tenth graduating class of Eisenhower High School. Not only is it the largest class numerically in our history, but it is the best educated and informed class yet graduated. It is a class with high expectations, both for the members of its own class, and in its setting goals and aspirations for the classes that will attend this school during the years ahead.

It is my sincere hope that you have both enjoyed your years at Eisenhower, and have been educationally equipped to pursue your personal goals after graduation. Our school is indebted to each member of the class of 1969 for their efforts to make our school the best school in The Inland Empire.

Sincerely yours,

Albert Keegan

A Fine Staff Heads Materials Center

Approximately fifty students elect Library training as one of their courses. During the day they assist Mrs. Avonelle Tierney, and Mrs. Phyllis Trejo. The program for these students is two-fold; to learn more about using the library to the benefit of themselves as well as others, and to help keep the books and magazines available for student and faculty use.

Nearly thirty students choose audio-visual as one of their electives. They learn how to operate the variety of equipment necessary to the school's audio-visual program, under the instruction of Mr. Arlan Bargmann.

The library has expanded its program to other levels. It now has a large book collection, a growing paperback book collection, tapes, records, film strips, slides, art prints, transparencies and charts. A micro-film reading and printing service is also offered, along with a Xerox copier, for student use.

Mr. Arlan Bargmann is the Head of the Audio-Visual Center. He is responsible for the equipment and materials. Mrs. Marge Kress is the Assistant. She aids many students in the Audio-Visual Center.

The special education department is charged with the care and education of two groups of students: the educable mental retards (EMR), and the educationally handicapped (EH). An EMR is a mentally retarded boy or girl who will in many cases, not be able to be included in a normal classroom situation. However, they can, under proper training and instruction, be educated according to their abilities. An EH is a student who is emotionally or academically behind other students of his own age.

In each of the two classes, the objective is education for adjustment. The objective, in the case of the EMR students, is social and family adjustment. The teacher of the EH student attempts to educate him in the areas of his academic weakness.

Language Dept. Wants Pupils To Add Skills

The Foreign Language Department has two chief goals: to develop speaking, reading, and writing skills, and to promote interest in the foreign country and its people. This year the language lab was opened one night per week, for students seeking additional help and practice.

Interest in foreign languages beyond the confines of the classroom has produced enriching experiences. Many students are corresponding with young people of various countries. Foreign language clubs have invited speakers to give interesting lectures. Trips have been arranged to many worthwhile activities in the area.

General Laws Are Studied In Science

The Science Department includes five teachers. Mr. Cannon teaches Chemistry and Physics; Mr. Taylor teaches Biology; Mr. Nicholson and Mr. Fleming teach Biology; and Mr. Massaro teaches Chemistry. There are three branches of science a student may take.

Biology is the branch of science a student usually takes in the tenth grade. It includes the study of living organisms (plants and animals) and advanced science. Chemistry is the study of the composition of substances, and their transformations. Physics is taken only by seniors. It deals with the aspects of inanimate matter involving no changes in composition.

A New English Program Is Established

Mr. David S. Bird, English teacher, has been in the English department for several years. His previous schooling includes Mount St. Joseph University, where he received his Bachelor's degree in English. He is also a member of the National Council of Teachers of English and sponsors the Creative Writing Club.

This year a new program has been established. It concerns all senior English classes, and is an experimental attempt to provide a diversified elective offering of courses in language and literature.

At the close of the 1967-68 school year forms were passed out to all juniors. These forms included a choice of course offerings for the coming year. It was explained to the students that they would be able to pick the subjects that they would like to take. The choices were based on student interest and faculty strength. Among them are Independent Reading, The Bible as Literature, and Mythology. This choice of subjects gives the seniors an opportunity to pursue special interests beyond the basic English program. However, there is a course that is required. It is a ten week study of grammar and composition.

Instructors hope to develop an understanding of the world through the best literature. They also would like to provide instruction and practice in the communication skills of reading, writing, speaking, and listening. Through writing, speech, and drama, creative expression is stimulated, encouraged, and carried out.

Susan Birdsall and Linda McQuay are choosing among the paperback books offered in the library. The Independent Reading program requires a certain amount of pages read in a ten week period. Many students choose modern novels such as To Kill a Mockingbird by Harper Lee.

Richard Vaadez and Mike Sandell are discussing one of the term project reports assigned to them. The library also offers a variety of study carrels. There are also typing rooms and study carrels. The carrels afford privacy for students who wish to work on their term project reports.

For Senior Classes

Students in Mrs. Bonnie Rucker's sixth period senior English class are studying one of the readings assigned to them. The English IV classes study modern American literature. Some of the authors studied are Edgar Allen Poe and Mark Twain.

Mrs. Bonnie M. Rucker teaches senior English. Her previous schooling includes Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan, where she received a Bachelor of Arts degree. She is one of the sponsors of the Senior class and works diligently on their projects.

Mrs. Imogene Stewart teaches English and Journalism. She attended Northwestern Oklahoma College, Northeastern State College, California State College at Los Angeles, and U.C.R. She is the advisor of the Eagle's Eye and sponsors Quill and Scraper.

Miss Janie L. Jones teaches Drama. Her previous schooling includes Whittier College, Los Angeles, California, where she received a Bachelor of Arts degree.

United States History is a course designed to teach students problems found in the past in a democratic form of government. The instructors attempt to clarify in the mind of the student the reasons behind each political action.

The Problems of Democracy class includes the study of U.S. Economics for one semester and U.S. Government for one semester. The general economy is studied, and there is an in-depth study of the stock market. Terri Northey, Speaker of the House, is the only "first-hand" representative of the basic student to Council. She attended all Council meetings, and conducted all "House" business.

Nancy Patton and Chris Chou worked together as members of Council. Nancy, Secretary of Activities, was responsible for most campus activities. Chris, Secretary of Publicity, also a busy girl. As Secretary of Publicity, she had to make all publicity for the school.

Keeping a correct history of the 1968-1969 school year was the main duty of these two girls. Linda McCalley served as Editor for the 1969 AQI ILLA, and was responsible for its being published. Barbara Lantis was the student historian for the year, keeping a record of the school year.

Council Officers

Throughout the 1968-1969 school year, and during the preceding summer, our Student Council officers met often to plan and direct most activities. This tightly-knit group became very efficient under the guidance and supervision of Mr. Walt Wohlers. They would never hesitate to question a move or to try something new; and would always do it with the student body in mind. They painted lunch tables, planned the Hello Dance, and re-furnished the Student Council room, all before the school year had started. Council, on the whole, did a good job in representing student interests and making this "Year of the Proud Eagle" a memorable one.

Representatives

House of Representatives is a true student representative body. In addition to being an instrument by which the EHS Student Body voiced their opinions on school policy and important matters, this year's House of Representatives was an active group of students who spent many hours planning functions that would benefit the entire student population. Their bi-monthly meetings were the center for many of the school's plans regarding students and also for such activities as the student Paperback Book Drive.

The Book Drive, headed by the House Committee and Chairman, Mark Perchan, was entirely sponsored by the House and took place in November. It was one of the most successful activities of the year, with over 10,000 books collected through classes and the car wash that high-lighted the activity. The books were sent to Norton Air Force Base where they were placed at the disposal of men leaving for Viet Nam and returning from the Far East.

The House also formed many committees to investigate and act upon proposals made by the students through their classes. These committees met as often as once a week and often visited other schools to make comparisons on such matters as cafeteria food, final examinations, career day, and student government.

This year's House of Representatives formed many committees to investigate the proposals from the different classes. Kim Purbaugh, as chairman of the Food Committee, is left in the process of giving his report to the House for approval and suggestions. At the left, Chairman Mark Perchan is the report on the Half-Day for Finals Committee. Another committee chairman, Mrs. D. Mathoney, looks on. Another youth while committee was the group that formed the Student Directory. The directory was entirely sponsored by the House and was compiled by the members of the Student Directory Committee. This committee's chairman, Frank Adams is shown below giving one of his numerous reports on the methods of compiling the directory and the printing of it. House officers were: Eze Ezars, Secretary; Sharon Swan, Recorder; Terri Norther, The Speaker, Holly Larson, Pro Tempore. Top: Ken Glass, Recorder, Bill Rhoades, Comm. Chairman, Mark Blumenthal, Sergeant-at-Arms, and Marty Teague, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Seniors Spend Last Year At Ike United

By Class Officers

Many hours were spent by the seniors in beautifying the senior lawn, which was established during the 1967-1968 school year. Constructing and painting a fence around the lawn is one of the many projects they have undertaken. The seniors have always worked hard to maintain their various privileges.

Among privileges, the seniors enjoy a lunch line at the snack bar and senior motorists monopolize the first four rows in the student parking lot. Due to their great spirit during the assemblies, the seniors never fail to win the competition cheers and, of course, they were dismissed first! Seniors also have the privilege of having their name printed in gold on their Aquila.

The class was united in goal and spirit and accomplished everything they attempted. Entering a float in the football homecoming and participating in the senior-junior basketball game were only a few of the items on their activity list. Seniors also sponsored the Christmas dance and presented The Senior Assembly, which was an overwhelming success.

After graduation in June, each senior will go his own way in life, but as a class, seniors have taken on the spirited and responsible personality of one. As the seniors look back over their accomplishments, they will always remember their E. H. S. years, if not as a thrilling journey, perhaps as a part of their flight through life.

Seniors hosted many Yuletide events in December. The first was the door decorating contest in which homeroom classes participated. All clubs and classes were encouraged to enter the Christmas tree decorating contest which took place on the last day of school before vacation. The school's Christmas festivities were finished on a high note by the Christmas Dance. The Senior Class prepared the beautiful decorations which included an 18 foot tree. All in all, the seniors added much Christmas spirit to the joyous season.

THE JUNIOR CLASS IS PLANNING A DANCE FOR THE FALL TERM. THE DANCE WILL BE HELD AT THE Y. M. C. A. HALL, 1234 MAIN STREET, ON FRIDAY, OCTOBER 15, AT 8 P. M. THE TICKETS ARE $2.00 PER PERSON.

Part of the Busy Life of a Junior

Above: Denise Boutsikaris and Mary Egan listen enthusiastically to the details of the dance that is coming up. Below: Vickie Martinez waits patiently for the chance to dance. The dance was a success.

This year Junior Class has done many inspiring things. Class leaders Cal Hollis, President, Gail Miller, Vice-President; Denise Boutsikaris, Treasurer; Vickie Martinez, Social Chairman; and Mary Egan, Secretary; have guided them through a fruitful year.

The Prom Committee, headed by Cal Hollis, worked busily during the school year on the Junior-Senior Prom. Since the early part of the year, the committee collected newspapers, sponsored dances, and sold cakes at "Back to School Night", to help raise money for the Prom.

Juniors shared experiences such as the ordering of class rings. This is one of the biggest days in the life of a junior, but bigger still is the day he receives it.

The Class of '70 actively supported and competed with the Seniors and Sophomores for the honor of winning competition yells. They also had large attendance ratings at school activities.

Juniors are the "in between" class; they're not new and inexperienced, nor are they preparing for graduation. The Junior year is the richest and most rewarding year of High School.

Rain, Slush, Water, Mud, and Football

The Roots of Education are Bitter, but the Fruit is Sweet Aristotle

Work mounts up for the Juniors as the year progresses. The teachers start to realize the capabilities of each individual student, and pour on the work. Between the time for studying and class time there is not room for anything else. Below left Frank Burkett carefully measures material for the experiment he is about to begin.

Changing History classes at the semester is really hectic, but it is always fun and exciting to get a new teacher. A different teacher inspires a student on to bigger and better things. The work gets harder and takes longer to do, but somehow we manage to plow through. The library offers a place to catch up on studies.

Make a Junior's Day Busy

1969 Juniors

As juniors we have spent two years here and have accomplished a lot. Now we are getting ready for the future. The Council has been elected and we are proud of it. We have a lot of fun and a lot of things that will be fun to do.

For the year we ordered and received a lot of things, which meant a lot to us. We planned one

Sophomores face new environment with their leaders

Leading the class of '71, were Chuck Rodriguez, President; Ann Martinez, Secretary; Cheryl Douglas, Treasurer; Steve Adams, Vice-President; and Joyce Johnson, Social Chairman.

Although the pace was strenuous for the sophomores, they faced it with self-confidence. They had much support from the sophomore representatives, and were engaged in many money making projects. The money was used to make Basketball Homecoming a success, and to add to the class treasury.

The sophomore officers have led their class successfully to become one of Eisenhower's best and active first year groups.

YOUR FLIGHT THROUGH LIFE WITH—

Whether we participated or watched, Sports were important in 1969. For sports have always played an important part in our lives. We have always strived to be the best—number one! This desire boils down to one word: competition. Whether it be team vs. team, or an individual contest, competition has taught us how to win skillfully or lose honorably. Both are essential for continuing an exciting Flight Through Life.

Bodies pile during line runs; passes fly during last-minute plays. Football, above all other sports, requires outstanding teamwork and endurance. Right: Frank Adams was a steady runner whose lasting endurance ranked him high on both Track and Cross Country teams. These are individual sports which stretch the limits of human endurance.*

Eagles Against Place Sixth in CBL

Battling to the finish, this year's squad proved to be one of the most exciting teams Eisenhower has ever produced. Adding to it were two new transfer students: Norm Campos and Scott Copeland.

Football action started on Sept. 20 with the first of two pre-season games that the Eagles lost to Upland and Montclair. Not allowing these defeats to discourage them, the team bounded back to snatch the next two games from San Bernardino and San Geronimo. The squad then dropped the next five games in close decisions to Pacific, Redlands, Ramona, Fontana, and Chaffey. All of this grid action provided us with interesting games and a hard-earned League sixth place.

Program Provided Helpful Experience

This year's Junior Varsity Football program allowed participating athletes to learn gridiron skills and gain valuable experience for future competition. In the program were "full-sized" boys who may or may not have alternated by playing on the Varsity team. Their games were played on Thursdays to allow the outstanding players the opportunity to play with the Varsity team on Friday nights in regular CBL play.

This year's team suffered many severe setbacks which carried them through a "not very glorious" season in which they had a win-loss record of 1 and 6. Coaches Paul Muckenfuss and Larry Taylor and the entire squad did achieve recognition as a very hard-working and improved team. Their outstanding sportsmanship was apparent in all games. The group was a credit to the Junior Varsity program.

Bees Prove Their Worth in Tough C.B.L.

Eisenhower's "Bee" football team is designed to allow the smaller boys of the student body, who might otherwise not have such an opportunity, to participate in League sports. Although the Bees are the smallest of our teams, they enjoyed a win/loss record superior to the Varsity or Junior Varsity teams. Coaches Jeff Kremer and Jim Russell led their team through a five win-four loss season.

The Bees showed that they were able to make their victories impressive ones. Pacific High, renowned for stiff competition, was beaten with a 20-7 score.

Above: Between plays the Bees make decisions in the huddle that determine their ability to score victories. To the left, Al Johnson (37), and Larry Barnes (33) are shown closing in on a Cardinal running back. Eagles held San Bernardino to one T.D., and a 9-7 victory. Below: Dennis Logan puts forth a great effort and bulls heads with Ramona in a shattering play.

Eisenhower's Varsity Basketball Squad, composed of eleven high-spirited boys, fought through the 1968-69 season with as much vigor and determination as any of our teams ever have. The team, headed by Coach Harry Violette, showed what inspiring leadership such as his can do.

The team was also studded with individual talents. Such team members as Ken Glass, forward; Allen Hodson, forward; and Mike Jones, guard, continually distinguished themselves in such games as the CBL match with Redlands in which we defeated the Terriers with a good margin. Our team as a whole found no difficulty in bringing home several other victories.

It would seem apparent that the boys gained much experience during the season and gave greatly to our spirit!

JV Basketball Team Places Fourth in Much Tougher CBL Play

This year's Eisenhower Junior Varsity Basketball Team, headed by Coach Larry Taylor, placed fourth in Citrus Belt League competition with a win-loss record of nine and nine. The twelve players began league competition with a loss to Ramona, followed by a win over the San Bernardino Cougars. They finished the season with a record with Ramona and San Geronimo, a 1-1 record with San Bernardino, Chaffey, Pacific, and Fontana, and a 2-0 record with Redlands.

This record is quite an improvement over not only last year's record, but over the records set by this year's Varsity and Bee Basketball teams. Every player on the squad should receive special recognition for a job that, well proved by the season record, can only be described as well-done.

JV Team Shows Its Hustle In Scores With Highest 1969 School Record In Basketball

HURST, TEXAS (UPI) — A winning streak for the Hurst Varsity and JV Basketball teams as the 1969 Junior Varsity Basketball squad finished the season with a nine win-nine loss record. This accomplishment earned the team a fourth place in the Citrus Belt League. Not only did their scores win them this honor, but they also brought them to a season high record over the other two Hurst Varsity and JV School Basketball teams. The team was coached by Mr. Larry Taylor, the team was only started on the victory.

Bee's Finish Season With High Record

This year's Bee Basketball team played some of the best teams in the Citrus Belt League. Their games were often as action-packed as the Varsity games that were played directly after them. The team reflected many hours of practice through their performances in these meets. They did place well in the standings.

Their coach, History teacher Terry Friedlander, practiced with and led the group to many astounding victories this winter. He could often be seen walking the floor at a game, playing at a practice, or giving a pep talk to the team at half time.

The Bee team this year was made up of boys who were too small to play Varsity ball, but who showed great promise as future basketball players through their tremendous efforts in all games played and in the good sportsmanship displayed by every member at all times. The success of the Bee team this year reflects the worthiness of the Bee program in general.

This year the Eagle Varsity Baseball team exhibited great skill in all of the games that were played. The batting was better than it has been in the past few years and the way the whole team performed was spectacular.

The coaching staff was enhanced this season with the addition of a parent advisor, Mr. William Bates who, along with the Coach, Mr. Richard King, helped mold the boys into one of the best teams to play in the CBL this year. The team gave a good account of itself in all CBL meets and, as the team is quite young, it will give hope for a better team next year.

This year's Eisenhower High School Junior Varsity and Sophomore Baseball teams are, like all other JV and Bee teams designed to allow smaller boys, who would not ordinarily have an opportunity to compete on the Varsity level, to have a chance at Citrus Belt League sports. This kind of athletic program has proved over and over what varied and advantageous results can come of it. Aside from the opportunity given the boys mentioned above, this program helps to further improve our school spirit, student involvement, and also provides our athletic department with experienced varsity material in consequent years. The experience, spirit, ability, and coaching are self-evident when one considers the record of this year's JV and Sophomore teams.

This year the Eisenhower High School Golf team teed off to defend their CBL title. The squad, headed by Coach Harry Violette, spent many hours in preparation for the numerous meets they played this season. # Varsity and Junior Varsity Netters Begin Season With Several Wins

This year, the Varsity and Junior Varsity Tennis teams began the season with several surprising upsets. The hours of practice after school during the week were exhibited during the many matches that the team won. The teams, divided into singles and doubles sets, performed with the skill of champions and the school was quite pleased with the results of the grueling practices and exciting games.

Coach Willard Schmidt, in his second year of coaching the teams, was quite satisfied with the show that the boys gave this spring. The teams are very much an improvement over last year's teams and with the amount of youth on the teams, next year should prove to be just as exciting as this year has been, and as active.

Varsity Track Team Places High In CBL With Numerous Wins In The League Play

This year the Varsity Track Team showed great agility in all of the meets they competed in, and most often won. The team, under the express direction of Head Coach Norm Daluiso, placed fairly high in the CBL standings with numerous wins over local schools. The team showed great strength in its running events and the other events were also well represented. The team proved that they truly represent the school year's motto, "The Year of the Proud Eagle" with a CBL Finals' first

JV's and B's Stand Out In CBL Ratings

The Junior Varsity and Bee Track teams have, this season shown in every way that they have the ability to equal and perhaps in some instances to surpass the Varsity team in potential and ability for their classification.

In general, all of Eisenhower's athletic teams have shown marked improvement in coping with the more advanced Citrus Belt League teams, and all three of our track teams have been no exception. Right from the start of the season, our team's ability has been self-evident. Only an upset by Redlands marred the early part of the year, and a very good season in all was expected thanks to our spirit and the coaching of Mr. Dawson and his staff of qualified assistants, both student and faculty.

Added Honors

Eisenhower's Cross Country teams enjoyed one of their most impressive seasons. They maintained 11 wins and held losses down to 3. Coach Meader's leadership was studded with several individual achievements; Larry Alexandre placed fourth in CBL finals and Dennis Mendonca brought home a third. Cross Country has earned their place of honor on campus.

To most students, Cross Country would seem to typify an earlier part of the regular track season. However, the two have definite differences. There are no field events to offset running races, and, in fact, are no variations in the races run. The teams have no well-designed professional tracks upon which to run. Cross Country is a gruelling all-out competition run over two miles of about any kind of terrain ranging from public highways to sandy fields in all types of weather.

Far left Varsity Harrier Frank Adams, all alone on the home course, makes good use of his several years' experience and turns it on in the home stretch. Left Larry Alexandre, of the Varsity's top men, takes an easy win and puts opponents far behind. Behind Frank Adams, Dennis Mendonca, and John Teeter put the rest of the pack behind. Frank Adams won the race.

YOUR FLIGHT THROUGH LIFE WITH—

Our reason for attending EHS was to receive a good education, and we went to school with that in mind. But sometimes we need to escape from the hum-drum atmosphere of the classroom and involve ourselves in certain extra-curricular activities. They made life at EHS more enjoyable and we will always remember them as we move on into a different facet of our Flight Through Life.

Spirit With Cheers and Active Support

Almost a month before Spring Vacation of the 1967-1968 year, approximately thirty girls could be seen in the quad after school three times a week, practicing for varsity cheerleader. For the next five weeks, these girls went through a rigorous training in hopes that they might be one of the new varsity cheerleaders an honor no one could know unless they themselves have held this position. At the end of this four week period, twelve girls were chosen to perform before the entire student body, as those who made preliminaries. The six girls seen at every varsity game leading the school with unlimited spirit, are the results of those twelve finalists.

All of these girls work together in a tightly knit group and without this unity, the spirit of the Eisenhower High School student body would never be

Bee Cheerleaders Inspire Student Body

Excitement is only a word, but the thought behind it is enough to keep anyone on their toes. This is especially true for our seven bee cheerleaders. The bees live in a world of excitement which few others could ever know.

The 1977-78 Bee Cheerleaders consist of seniors Celia Frans and Mike Vaughn, as well as sophomores Gail Keegan, Karen Henry, and Nancy Rohrer.

They were truly "busy as bees" this year, for they had to cheer at all junior varsity and bee athletic events, as well as perform at pep assemblies at many varsity games.

For the first time in the history of the student body, a boy was elected to the Bee Cheerleaders. Mike Vaughn, the first boy to be elected, hopes that more boys will be encouraged.

"Birds of a feather fight together." This was chosen by head mascot Cindy Skog and alternate Allison Good as their motto this year. These girls have the job of representing the eagle, the symbol of the spirit of Eisenhower High, at school events.

As members of our leadership group, they are responsible for skits and the promotion of spirit at all pep assemblies. You can always be sure that you can spot a green and white eagle smiling and cheering even though the threat of defeat hampers joy.

Selling suckers last year, Cindy and Allison gained enough money to pay for the uniforms which they made during the summer.

By using their clever imaginations and skill, they unite our school spirit, a trait not common to all people.

1968-1969 Pom Pons Demonstrate Talent

Our Pom-Pon squad is dedicated to promoting school spirit for Ike High. They participate in state-wide competitions with other schools and are eager to support our teams at many "B", "JV", and Varsity events.

School spirit and pep finds the girls willing to spend additional hours working after school many days a week.

Consisting of many returnees from last year, the 1968-69 Pom-Pon squad includes: Chris Chow, Head; Carol Redding Co-head; Barbara Entwistle, Kathy Flanders, Debbie Hoyland, Karen Galley, and Alternate Debbi Kirkland.

Throughout the year, the 1968-1969 Flag Twirlers were led by Head Twirler, Northern, and Co-head Utes, Ardison. Gayle Anderson, Gay Cannon, Joyce Daniels, Tom Jones, and alternates Mary Raun and Cindy Votherot are the other members that make up the spirited leadership group known as the Flag Twirlers.

During the course of the school year the Flags perform at Varsity games and march in parades. During football season, they also make up their own routines and perform at each pep assembly. Many times they have competed with flag twirlers from opposing schools. Each time they have returned with honors.

Entertaining adults and students alike, the Drill Team devoted their time and effort performing at assemblies, parades and athletic events.

The group includes a competition team, numbering twenty-five in all, especially chosen to compete in parades. The regular Drill Team, seen at assemblies and half-time shows, numbers forty-eight in all.

Drill Team Marches

December 7, the group competed in two parades. The first was the San Bernardino Christmas Parade, where they placed second among sixteen drill teams, the second was in Lancaster.

The Drill Team displays precision as they execute one of their routines. Weeks of preparation and earnest practice go into the formulation of their performances at assemblies and half-time acts.

Varsity Band Sports Striking Uniforms

This year, the Marching Band received new uniforms. They are dark green, with gold and light green trim. The striking colors of these uniforms help them during their public appearances.

Band members are the busiest during marching season. Mr. Thomas, the director, originates and plans many of the halftime shows. The Band and Drill Team learn the shows and practice for two hours a day on them. The audiences at the games are usually quite pleased when they witness the finished shows. Band members also appear at away games on a voluntary basis. They perform at all pep assemblies, for many school functions, and also marched in The First Annual Homecoming Parade.

In November, they performed in two band contests. One was in Hawthorne, and the other was in Santa Monica. It is very important that the Band be precise in marching and alignment. They made an excellent showing at both of these contests. December 7, they appeared in the San Bernardino Christmas Parade where they placed second with a final score of 92.5. The same day they traveled sixty miles to appear in the Lancaster Christmas Parade, where they also placed second.

All Choirs Receive Superior Ratings at Choral Festival

In the spring of 1968, all the choral groups of Eisenhower competed in the annual Southern California Vocal Association Choral Festival. They made a very successful showing. Each group received a superior rating for their performances.

This year the choral students were busy presenting programs for various service groups and Junior High Schools in this area. They also presented two Christmas assemblies for the Eisenhower student body and three evening programs for the community. One evening concert was presented by Jester Hairston, who returns annually each year to work with the choir and present a concert featuring songs he has composed.

This year for the first time, all the choral groups were included on a long-playing record featuring their favorite songs.

This year two students, Yvonne Evans and Laura Drake, were chosen to sing in the Southern California Youth Choral Choir.

This year proved to be one of the most successful years the choir dept. has known.

This year's twenty members of the Madrigal Singers were chosen in the spring of 1968 from among the various vocal groups at Eisenhower. The Madrigals are the service group of the choir department and had many opportunities to perform within the community and Inland Empire.

The highlights for the Madrigal Singers this year were three evening concerts, a trip to Sea World, where they presented several short programs on the grounds, and their presentation of many programs for various service groups in this area. This year's National Forensic League of Eisenhower consisted of twenty-five plus participants all working for different degrees in public speaking. These speech students competed against the most talented youth of this area in tournaments held all over Southern California.

The National Forensic League is a national honor society which trains its members to be the leaders of tomorrow. The greatest value of the NFL is that it gives its members the encouragement and incentive that is needed to become an effective speaker.

This year's NFL of Eisenhower proved to be the largest and most active that Eisenhower High has ever seen. They hosted several tournaments and placed second at the first tourney of the year in girls' oratory.

The mutual feeling of each student was we have something worthwhile to say — as students they felt — if we can say it and say it well, we're on the road to progress.

Art has been defined as the visual expression of emotions and ideas. This visual expression can be achieved through the use of many different mediums available to the art students.

This year art students made studies of several different techniques. With the knowledge of these styles, they then went on to experiment with their ideas. Sculptures and ceramics are another form of expression. Many of the original and outstanding pieces of pottery were on display in the office.

In January of this year, the most outstanding art work was sent to be judged in the National Scholastic Arts Awards Contest which offers art scholarships to the winners of the various categories.

This year the Drama Department staged four major productions. The first production was "A Thurber Carnival" which consisted of several one-act scenes taken from familiar short stories and famous moments in history. "A Thurber Carnival" attracted 250 people in the two nights it was staged October 29 and 30.

Directed by Nancy Whitney, the Drama Department presented the very famous and familiar "Scrooge" on December 14. The main character, Scrooge, was played by Charles Rodriguez. The four ghosts were played by Frank Gomez, Marley; Terri Mol, Christmas Past; Ann Mathews, Christmas Present; and Roanne Withers, Christmas Yet to Come.

"The Importance of Being Earnest," a comedy by Oscar Wilde, was directed by Miss Janie Jones and presented by the Drama Department on February 11, 12, 14, and 15.

This year 21 students participated in the student workshop which presented weekly one-act plays, scenes, and recitations free to the public, which was successful.

Newspaper Staff Publishes Eagles Eye Weekly

This year's Eagles Eye Staff put out a weekly edition of the paper. This was the first year that the weekly publication was used. To compensate for the high cost of weekly publication, the Eagles Eye Staff sold more advertisements than in past years. With the weekly edition they covered more extensively school activities and national issues.

They succeeded in getting students as well as teachers involved enough in national issues to voice their opinions in the paper. They attended seminars at Chaffey College where they met and exchanged ideas with other high school newspaper staffs in this area.

In the words of the Editor Craig Staats, they have tried "to cover the more important issues rather than drowning in wishy washiness and apathy as in previous years."

Yearbooks Take Lots of Loyalty

In June of 1968, plans for this year's Aquila got underway with the selection of the 1969 staff members.

The new staff attended a six week summer workshop where they learned how to make layouts, count copy, and plan a yearbook. During this time they sold advertisements and made the layouts they would use.

In August, four members attended a ten day workshop at the University of San Diego where they exchanged ideas with students from all over Southern California. These staff members were Linda McCalley, Beth Ramsauer, Dan Clavio, and Kathy Hesselune. They attended many seminars where they learned in detail how to plan a good yearbook.

They attended classes on layout, copy writing, photo editing, yearbook theory, and others. With the background they achieved they went on to work continuously on the 1969 Aquila. All hard work paid off, however, in what we believe to be the best yearbook in the history of our school...the 1969 Aquila.

Varsity Thinkers Have Ability to Recall

Ten students, seven seniors, five juniors and 1 sophomore, represented the school in this year in meets with other schools in their league. Throughout the year they competed academically with the other schools.

They competed in a "Go-Back" setup where they were asked questions in all fields of school studies. The questions ranged from humanities to math and science.

During these meets they were not competing to find out who knew the most. This was the last thing they had on their minds.

A meet between two opposing Varsity Thinker teams is a contest between two teams in which the ability to recall specific facts and details in the shortest time possible is challenged. Most of the members of the Varsity Thinkers have a B+ average and are members of CSF. The position that a student held on the team was won through open competition between all of the other Varsity Thinker members.

Varsity, Faculty Win In Dual B.B. Contest Dec. 20

Appearing annually on the activities calender is the Faculty-Alumni game. This year the faculty won over the Bees after going into a three-minute overtime in a close 57-55 finish. The Varsity overpowered and completely outplayed the Alumni by the wide margin of 80-66. The Alumni response was overwhelming with returnees from as far as Annapolis, Maryland, and classes from '61. Mr. John Dowd, counselor, coached the following Alumni: John Dahl, Bill McKinney, Bob Dowd, Jim Genschen, Ken Patee, Tom Buxton, Boyce Gire, Kyle Mote, Fred Comer, Bruce Smith, Doug Garret, Tim Blavlock, Wayne Haggard, Bill McCalley, Paul Santovo, Bill Morris, and Bob Palmer. Faculty included: Terry Friedlander, Jim Russell, Dick King, Norm Daluso, Harry Meader, Dwight Giger, Paul Snyder, Harry Violet, Jeff Perkins, and Paul Muckenliss.

As Friday night, January 24, approached, a tense atmosphere lingered in the air as everyone awaited half-time, when this exciting moment would reach a climax. Chosen as finalists for Queen were Sandee Baer, Chris Chow, Diane Honeycutt, Mary Alice McGowan, and Mary McCrary. Among the six finalists for princess were Kathi Bird, Denise Boutsikaris, and Arlene Oyas as the Juniors; Karen Bird, Patti Honeycutt, and Debby Koenen as the Sophomores.

Karen Bird was first announced as the Sophomore Sweetheart, followed by the crowning of her sister, Kathi Bird as the Junior Darling. The Queen finalists were then escorted across the basketball court. Chris Chow, head Pom Pom, was named as the First Princess. After this, tears and cries of joy came from Diane Honeycutt as the former Queen, Michi Smith, placed the crown on her head, announcing Diane as the new 1968-69 Basketball Homecoming Queen.

Following the game, the Sophomore Class presented "The Night of the Dragon", as the theme for the Basketball Homecoming Dance. The auditorium, decorated in an Oriental mood, was adorned with hanging lanterns and huge colorful parasols.

Winterfulfolk Festival Introduced New Stars and Local Talent

The 1969 Winterfulfolk Festival provided the EHS student body with a taste of traditional folk music as well as some modern folk. The two and one-half hour Student Council sponsored program joined professionals with students and became an overwhelming success for everyone involved.

Leading off the top of the program were Deb and Deb (Debbie Belchovick and Debbie Housel). Among the other entertainers were Valerie Shanks, Mike Murphy, Don Hann and Hans Olson, all students from Eisenhower. Don Hanna on the electric guitar, accompanied Mike in his songs, one of them being "Flowers," an original written by himself. Alumni returning to perform were Tom Buxton and Gary Frisbie.

Sally Thomas, who frequently appears at the Penny University, made a special trip down from Big Sur to entertain the EHS students.

Carol Stromme, the rising young star from the San Bernardino Civic Light Opera production of "Brigadoon", displayed a fresh and exciting new talent.

Students Break Classroom Routine with Varied Assemblies

TEAM.
FOR EISENHOWER
OUR DEAR OLD ALMA
WE OWE OUR BEST TO THE WEST

Eisenhower's students enjoyed a wide variety of assemblies presented to them throughout the year. This year's assemblies ranged from the spirited pep assemblies to such entertainment as John Goddard and the San Bernardino Valley C. Gymnastics Team, both being asked to return due to the overwhelming response of the students.

First run assemblies were presented by the Campus Crusade for Christ Karate Team and Paul Yearout.

The AFS student Jane Kneppshild (returnee from Austria) and exchange students John and Poo talked of their countries in an assembly about the American Field Service. Other traditional assemblies, including the Christmas Program (presented by the school's choral groups) and the Homecoming Candle Assembly, helped maintain a balanced assembly schedule.

Demonstrations and Special Talent, Held Student Interest

The first of the demonstrations was given by the young man who was the first to show his special talent. He was a very young man, and he was very interested in the demonstration. He was very

Along with the usual assemblies, many demonstrations and special talent have been enjoyed by the student body. Included on this list was Joan Carl, professional sculptor, who shared with the Art classes many of her unique styles and techniques. Also making a special appearance was Mr. Universe who showed methods of weight lifting to the boys PE classes and spoke about health and conditioning

Occurring frequently on the school year's activities schedule are the dances enjoyed by nearly the entire student body.

Both classes and clubs sponsor this wide variety of dances. The Senior Class, for one, put on the annual Christmas Dance. In order to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom, the Junior Class sponsored a Victory Dance following one of the basketball games. The Sen-tetts, a girls' club on campus, initiated a first at EHS when they put on a Roaring Twenties Dance. Among one of the traditional dances presented this year, was the Sadie Hawkins Dance. Customarily each year, the students wear 'Lil Abner apparel to go along with the mood of the evening. All of these are just a few of the dances offered to the students for an entertaining and enjoyable schedule.

Alana Aloha Recreated the Romantic Atmosphere of Old Hawaii

Presented by the Azurettes, the traditional girl-ask-boy semitormal, the Alana Aloha was held on April 19, 1980. Upon entering the most beautiful of the romantic environment of the Alana Aloha, guests seated in quaint palm trees, couples were able to view the traces of the tropical rain forest, recently found in old Hawaii. Exposed by the romantic atmosphere of the evening, couples were to the entrancing rhythm and jazz of the 1940s. Ornamental flowers were scattered on the Hawaiian scene, picturesque mountains and trickling waterfalls added to the successful evening.

“Esta Noche de Amor”

The traditional long awaited evening had arrived! Approaching the Tomahawk room couples walked through the beautiful dimly-lit grounds of Valley College. As the moon shimmered through the romantic Spanish setting of black wrought iron with entwining roses, murals and arches gave an enclosed garden illusion. At tables set in back of the arches, couples listened to the expressive rhythm of the Jopo Brass. It was clear the theme “Esta Noche de Amor”, was well chosen.

This celebrated social event of the year took place on May 24 and will be long remembered as a true “Night of Love”.

Clubs

The right to choose our own friends has become an almost sacred right, and we took advantage of it well in our high school lives. We grouped together through common interests: athletics, academics, and leisure. Clubs played a big role in assuring the success of our high school experiences in that they taught us to live and work together—a lesson valuable for living a meaningful Flight Through Life.

AFS Members Welcome Foreign Students

The basic purpose of the American Field Service Club is to create and maintain within the student body a better understanding among the peoples of the world. They also attempt to stimulate interest in the Americans Abroad Program and work in cooperation with the adult chapter of A.F.S.

During this year, 1968-1969, the club plans to increase membership and make known to the community the real meaning of the American Field Service. Another project is the building up of funds so more activities can be made possible for the club and for promoting interest in the club. The American Field Service motto is "Working together, taking together, and celebrating together." The club is looking forward to a busy year.

Celebrating their tenth anniversary this year, the Azurettes girls' social-service club met the 1968-1969 school year with much anticipation. As is traditional, the club started off its many activities with a fall membership tea. Bonney Duke and Gloria Vasquez were on hand to greet prospective members coming to the tea, as shown in the picture at the right.

As their first major undertaking, the club entered a float in the football homecoming parade. (Members are shown below planning their entry.) Their hard work and patience proved worthwhile as the club's entry, "It's An Eagle's World After All," took first place honors. Besides the float entry, Azurettes collected Thanksgiving baskets, served at banquets, and hosted the Alana Aloha.

Camera Club Excels in Photography Use

1968-69 is the second year for the existence of the Camera Club. The membership now stands at twelve, with Randy Murdock serving as president. Demonstrating the several uses of photography is one of the main purposes of the club, along with exposing the members to these various uses. Many new ideas and approaches are often discussed with Mr. Petterson, the sponsor, who works with the members to help with projects and new ideas on photography.

Camera Club meetings are held in the new "K" wing on Thursday evenings. The "K" wing was chosen for meetings because of the excellent position for a dark room.

Creative Writers Compose Phalanx II

Students are given an excellent opportunity to exhibit their talent in writing by joining the Creative Writing Club. Serving as president for the year 1968-69 was Kerr Wissler.

At meetings, Mr. Sexton, the sponsor, assists members in establishing the tradition of publishing Phalanx, an annual literary magazine. The second edition, Phalanx II, is composed of fiction and non-fiction, poetry, drawings, and photographs. All material was submitted by Eisenhower students and was judged and selected by the officers of the club. The response was tremendous, as many fine writings were contributed and the members are very grateful for the students' great enthusiastic support.

Student Body Joins Nation In Mourning Loss of General Dwight David Eisenhower

Dwight David Eisenhower was born on October 14, 1890 in Denison, Texas. During his 78 years, he accomplished many amazing feats. The most famous was his election as the thirty-fourth President of the United States. Eisenhower gained earlier fame as a general in the United States Army. He eventually achieved the rank of a Five Star General for his commendable work as the commander of American forces in Europe during World War II and other military service.

After his retirement from the presidency, Eisenhower often vacationed in Palm Springs. Loyal Eisenhower High students were always on hand to welcome him upon his arrivals. Then in 1963, General Eisenhower accepted an invitation to visit the campus that bore his name. The school was named for President Eisenhower as far back as 1959, but the busy president could not find the time to take a special trip to visit the school. On March 22, 1963, General Eisenhower found the time to see the campus he had waited so long to view.

Upon his arrival, Eisenhower was greeted by Principal Edward Ryan and ASB President Randy Wheaton. After formal greetings by school officials, General Eisenhower addressed an assembly of over 2,000 students and interested spectators, who greeted the former president with a standing ovation. Eisenhower then attended some of the various classes on campus with the comment, "I'm going to visit a few of your classes, but I'm going to keep still. I want to learn something from you." Eisenhower was made an honorary life member of the student body and invited to return. He never did. He will be greatly missed by us all.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, D.C.

July 31, 1959

Dear Mr. Ryan:

Thank you for telling me that the new high school in your district in San Bernardino is going to be named the Dwight David Eisenhower High School. I am indeed complimented.

While I cannot hope to be present at the dedication ceremony or, indeed, the graduation exercises next June, I am appreciative of your thoughtful invitation.

As for a "nickname" for the school, I would not want to venture a suggestion; I think that the pupils themselves should choose the name that they think most appropriate -- and incidentally I quite agree that my full name is too long for everyday use.

My secretary will send to you within a few days a photograph and she will give you the information you request regarding portraits. In the meantime, may I say once again that I am extremely honored by your action?

With best wishes to you, to the faculty and the students of the Dwight David Eisenhower High School,

Sincerely,

Dwight D. Eisenhower

Above: General Eisenhower was given a warm welcome upon his arrival at the high school bearing his name. While President of the United States, General Eisenhower was unable to visit the school. Bottom Left: In a special memorial service honoring General Eisenhower, the A Cappella Choir performed. Their excellent renditions were certainly a tribute to the great man. The Eisenhower High School Concert Band and Speech students also honored Eisenhower. Top Left: The solemnness of the occasion is shown in the deeply concerned expressions on the faces of those attending the memorial service. Bottom Right: Our flag at tribute to the former president.

YOUR FLIGHT THROUGH LIFE WITH—

High school is big business, and many businesses, near and far, have shown a great interest in EHS through many various ways. Several of them awarded scholarships; others donated merchandise. Advertising is another good investment taken advantage of. We wish to thank the many businesses in this Ad section for the funds necessary for producing an accurate record of your Flight Through Life

What did the Year of the Proud Eagle hold in store for you? Perhaps your year was filled with the excitement and fulfillment of graduation and a busy senior year. Perhaps you strove to complete the in-between year of the active junior. Maybe your year was spent in the preparation of the sophomore for two more years of active class participation. Whatever the class or occupation, a phase of your FLIGHT THROUGH LIFE was completed.

As active members of the Associated Student Body, the 1969 AQUILA staff joined the rest of the students, faculty and administration in awaiting the final touch to a great year—the 1969 AQUILA. The members of the staff, however, had a feeling of anxiety only staff members could have experienced. We awaited the arrival of our final masterpiece, the product of over twelve months of planning and continuous hours of work.

As you reminisced through the pages of this yearbook, I hope that memories of this proud year and the special events that it may have held for you were brought to mind. If these memories were vividly recalled, then our efforts will not have been in vain. Our Year of the Proud Eagle will be completed and the final touch to the year will have been a success.

Linda McCalley

IQI H.A. staff members Clario, Parrish, Swan, Bird, Powell, Peterson, Ramauer, Garrett, Martinez, Rios and Ketchum are ready for anything. Staff members were often called upon to help with the annual cause.
